Gojol called on stakeholders in the justice system to help the labor sector find ways to protect workers' fundamental rights in the COVID-19 outbreak. He cited the Department of Labor and Employment, consultant 17, which encouraged workers and employees to negotiate temporary adjustments to wages and other benefits. Alam Nating Ang Nagpakalat Nito Gojol said that the food and drink workers of the Sentro Labor Center have a strike notice due to the lack of workplace safety protocols on May 18. ABS-CBN claimed that it would be forced to lay off workers by August without a new franchise. Lyceum of the Philippines Law Dean Ma. Soledad Deriquito-Mawis, former president and president of the Philippines Association of Law Schools, was optimistic about the solutions discussed during the webinar. Àè àY àReporting and editorial staff are under intense pressure during this pandemic, which À " is probably the most complex story' we can cover right now. We must be watched to make sure we have'.) The unjustified arrests of kno have said that the pandemic has further underlined lingering issues such as abuse of power, human rights violations, lack of access to the judiciary, overcrowded prisons and detention centers, lack of accountability, Weapon of law and with impunity, Maraming Kumpanya ang napilitang itigil ang optarson ad apektado ang maraming no-work, no-pay( na mga manggagawa). Gojol said. Even if there is a lack of structures and organizational preparation, the wheels of justice must address everyone. These cases were at the top of the arrests and killings under the drug war, which continued despite the blockade. The notice was received but not dealt with by the National Conciliation and Mediation Board, whose operations have been put on hold by the pandemic. The bright spots still in sight Ilagan said that collaboration was the key to addressing the difficulties and challenges posed by the Covid-19 pandemic as the media and other stakeholders seek transparency and accountability in the legal system and government. Ria Nadora of the Association of Law Students of the Philippines urged the public to join the national discourse for better access to the justice system using online spaces and social media. Two months of blockade have put the Filipino justice system under more stress and further out of reach ordinary citizens. Some branches were open only three times a week and for half a day. day. day.
